ANTI-TAMMANY.

Mass Meeting at Irving Hall Last Night.

Speeches of Senators Stockton and Abbett and Others.

FOR TILDEN AND HENDRICKS.

Irving Hall was filled last night with opponents of Tammany Hall, assembled for the purpose of ratifying the nomination of Tilden and Hendricks. A band of music contributed its strains from the gallery to while away the time. Outside, on Irving place, a platform was erected, from which several speakers harangeed the large crowd assembled. There was a very respeciable gathering and attentive listeners applauded the many excellent points made by the speakers. It was much regretted that Mr. Oswold Ottendorfer was unable to preside upon the occasion. During the day he complained of indisposition, which prevented his attendance. A letter from the gentleman, read at the meeting, fully explained his enforced absence. Ex-Assistant District Attorney Gaven satisfactorily filled the chairmanship.

The meeting was called to order precisely at eight s'clock. Among those on the platform were ex-Senator Stockton, Rufus F. Andrews, Coroner Ellinger, Charles H. Swan, D. T. McMahon, Thomas T. Barr, ex Justice Koch, Malcolm Campbell, Charles W. Brooke, Jerome Buck, R. B. Roosevett, James D. McCielland and others. The platform of the inside gathering was appropriately decorated with flags and banners, likesesses of Tilden and Hendricks being in front of the table. After the introductory remarks of Messrs. E. R. Hart and S. B. Garvin a long list of vice presidents was read. In this list appeared the names of Recorder Hackett, Richard O'Gorman, ex-Sheriff O'Brien, Judge Gildersleeve, Sepator Bixby, Sepator Morrissey, ex-Justice Ledwith and several other prom. inent citizens. The names of these gentlemen were loudly cheered. Recorder Hackett came in for a large share of the enthusiasm in this respect. Every aliusion to Governor Tilden was also greeted with the warmest approbation. At nine o'clock Irving Hall was packed to its fullest capacity, and the crowd outside had swelled to several thousand. Clubs, with bands at their head, marched to the scene of the meeting. The "New York County Democracy" of the Fifth Assembly district came into the hall bearing a banner, upon which was painted a likeness of Governor Tilden. The Nineteenth Assembly district also carried a transparency bearing the inscription—"For President, Samuel J. Tilden. For Governor, Andrew H. Green. We want men who will protect us from fraud and cor-

The proceedings were opened by Mr. Emanuel B. Bart, who said that in consequence of the illness of Mr. Oswold Ottendorfer, which they must all regret, sx-Judge Samuel B. Garvin would preside.

Judge Garvin then came forward, and after expressing his regret at the absence of the chairman who should have presided, said that for sixteen years the country had suffered from republican misrule, in which the democracy had no hand or part. Now, reform was the rallying cry-the reform of the whole government, from the head to the lowest of its office-holders. A re form was sorely needed-taxes were never so high, and the laborer never was so poorly remunerated for his labor. Unless we have reform it would be impossible for the people to pay anything like the interest on the national debt, pay their taxes and take care of their families, until a man arose who has gone steadily abead, like Tilden, with his eye upon economy and reform, equality and justice for every citizen, the only man who can secure for the people of the United States their rights and privileges under the constitution, there could be no hope in the future. But such was at hand, and that man is Samuel J. Tilden. (Cheers.) Every man in the United States was surprised at the manimity with which the name of Samuel J. Tilden was received at the Convention at St. Louis. The railying cry was reform. (Cheers.) That was the watchword of the great movement that now spreads over the whole United States. There was another candidate in the field, Mr. Hayes, a man of great purity of character and he would not say one word against his qualifications as an occupant of the White House should he be sleeted President—the only objection to him was that he was the representative of the republican party. There was, however, another candidate in the field who deserved a good word and the best facilings of the people—though not their votes—that was Mr. Peter Cooper. (Cheers.) He hoped, and, in fact, looked confidently to the 4th of March next, when they would all see President Tilden walking up the steps of the White House in Washington to take the reins of government (appliance), and ahus carrying out the great reforms which he has long coatemplated.

Letters were then read from Messrs. Ottendorfer, Randall, Seymour, S. S. Cox, Abram S. Hewitt, Scott Lett, Benjamin A. Willis, Elijah Ward and others.

THE RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. Andrew F. Andrews then read the following resolutions: the laborer never was so poorly remunerated for his

Mr. Andrew F. Andrews then read the following res-

Resolved, That the republican party, which has for sixteen years held the reins of government in the national administration, is rightly held responsible not only for the decline of public morals and official integrity. Our also for the trouble and distress among the people, which has resulted from long continued missule, and which now sorely afflict every branch of trade and industry throughout the length and breadth of the land. Instead of discharging its high trust for the common weitare and employing the long period of peace for the restoration of harmony and prosperity, and securing throughout the land that liberty in the last trust for the common weitare and employing the long period of peace for the restoration of harmony and prosperity, and securing throughout the land that liberty in the last trust in the security of the last trust in the security of the security in the last trust in the security of the last trust in the last trust Resolved, That the republican party, which has for sixteen years held the reins of government in the national admini-tration, is rightly held respectively.

citiens to use all available means to rescue the republic from its failing fortunes, and to restore it so its old time honest dignity and thrift; and that such re-establishment and restoration can only be achieved by a radical change of measures and men.

Resolved. That in the selection by the democratic party as its candidate for the office of thret Magistrate, of a statesman public whosen to possess those qualities of mind and character which the stern task of genoine reform requires, we find conclusive evidence of an honest purpose, and of the uncompromising determination on the part of the great body of the neopic to make this a pure government once more. In Samuel J. Titlen we recognize one who has used his official inducence and power to expose and correct abuses who has often and again shown himself endewed with the moral courage and study resolution to get the control of the control of the election of Samuel J. Tilden and Thomas A. Hendricks

The resolutions were then put and carried.

Senator Stockton then came forward and said that an reaching home on Saturday night he first received the invitation to appear at this meeting, which he at once accepted, as it was to assist in the election of Samuel J. Tilden as President and Thomas A. Hendricks as Vice President. The republican party had how been sixteen years in power, and by the sid of democratic arms and hearts they crushed out the rebellion. Eleven years have passed since that time, and what is the condition of the country? They premised they would units all the people of the United States in peace and harmony; that prosperity would follow the close of the war; that movey would be plenty and comfort would encompass the land. What is the fact? We have rag money not worth a cent and our very gold depreciated. These republicans are how encompass to get up a religious war. (Cheers.) They are anxious to get up a war of races to perpetuate their power and to imperil the lives and liberties of the people at large. No wonder they would shrink from the terrible picture which their own acts have brought up before the people. They cannot delude the people longer. No; the people want a change after sixteen years of despotic rule, and the grand principle of liberty embedded in their hearts wil tell in the next election.

SENATOR ABBETT'S REMARKS.

Senator Albett, who was the next speaker, said:—Four years since the democracy of this country were not united, but to day alt over this land there is but one voice, for the reason that the whole people have made up their minds that the time is come when there must be a change in the administration, so that there may be a return to prosperity and an honest government. All that was required to change the present deplorable state of things, emanating from the present administration, was an enthusiasm that shall fill the hearts of all throughout the canvass. (Cheers.) As democrats they were all united in bringing up the great desired result—a return to the good old honest times.

Mr. Charles W. Brooke said that the time is rapidly a return to the good old honest times.

REMARKS OF MR. BROOKE.

Mr. Charles W. Brooke said that the time is rapidly approaching when in New York there will be no Tammany Hail or Irving Hail; but we can meet in our districts before election, owing no fealty to anybody or anything but the democratic party. He had read in the republican press throughout the country that the democratic party is divided. The result of the next election will show that the great disciple of reform, Samuel J. Tilden, has made the democratic party a unit. (Great applause.)

After the address of M. T. MacMahon the meeting adjourned.

adjourned.

THE OUTSIDE MERTING.

In front of the Hail on Irving place an immense meeting was held. Over 3,000 persons were present, Judge Fowler presided. Speeches were made by Mr. James D. McClellan, Judgo Birdsall, Mr. Emanuel Perl, Mr. Dennis MacMahon and James J. Muray. In presenting their views on the situation they detailed the action of the republican party during the sixteen years of its administration of the Jovernment, and charged it with being the champion of fraud and corruption. They urged the peopletic raily about the standard of democratic reform, free trade and specie payments, and to vote for the nominees of the St. Louis Couvention.

During the evening several torchlight processions of the anti-Tammany organizations passed, displaying il-luminated banners and fireworks.

TAMMANY HALL COMMITTEE ON ORGANIZATION.

A meeting of the Committee on Organization of Tammany Hall, or the Executive Committee, as it is now known, was held at the Wigwam yesterday afternow known, was need at the wigwarm yesterday atter-noon. Aldermen Seery and Purroy were appointed a committee to draft suitable resolutions relative to the death of Alderman Patrick Lysaght. Despatches were received from Washington announcing that the Con-gressmen and others invited to take part in the Tam-many ratification would leave Washington about nine o'clock this morning, thus arriving in New York in proper time.

COLORED REPUBLICANS.

A mass meeting of the colored citizens of the Seventh Assembly district, under the auspices of the Exceisior Republican Association, was held last evening at No. 12 University place. The object was to ratify the nomination of Hayes and Wheeler. J. S. Wyles was chosen President, T. S. Perkins Vice President and J. H. Jennison Secretary. Delegates were elected to proceed to Syracuse to attend the State Colored Convention which meets to-morrow, after which Rev. H. Garnet, D. D., addressed the meeting, and was followed by Professor Clarke. The resolutions indorsed

H. Garnet, D. D., addressed the meeting, and was followed by Professor Clarke. The resolutions indorsed Hayes and Wheeler.

The public school system was indorsed as among the most sacred institutions of the Republic.

A demand for a return to specie payments was vigorously pressed in the resolutions, and the democratic doctrine of repudiation was denounced as a fraud and outrage on the people.

Finally, the democratic House of Representatives was censured for having passed bills detrimental to the public service, odious in their principles and burdensome in their details, and finally charged with being incompetent to legislate for the people.

ANOTHER CONFERENCE

GEORGE WILLIAM CURTIS, CHOATE, BARLOW AND FORSTER AT ALBANY-WILLIAM M. EVARTS TO BE PUT FORWARD AS CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR OF NEW YORK.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 24, 1876. George William Curtis registered himself at Congress Hall to-day from his summer retreat in Massachusetts. Just ahead of him came Joseph H. Choate, by the New York train. Next followed the name of Francis C Barlow, ex-Attorney General of the State, from a point on Long Island Sound, and fourth followed the name of George H. Forster, the Assemblyman from the Westchester district. Such an array of names was enough to excite comment, especially as three of them secured a sulte of rooms together. During the evening a private conference was held, at which somewhat later Charles E. Smith, editor of the Albany Eecaing Journal was admitted. The substance of the discussion related mainly to the necessity and policy of advancing the name of William M. Evarits for Governor at the coming Saratoga Convention. Curtis and Forster were the more resolute opponents of Senator Conkling at Syracuse last spring, and are known to be the deadly enemies of what they call the "Custom House machine." Now while Choate, as President of the Union League Club, entertains a fitting sentiment of hatred for the author of the despatch which announced to the public the "impudence" of which that concern was guilty in the matter of discountenancing Conkling's cancillary. Barlow is a brother-in-law of Curtis, and usually follows up his trail. Besides Choate is a law partner of Evarts. The conference settled to their own satisfaction the policy to be pursued at the Convention, and dissolved into a general gossipping party, where all the chances of Hayes and Wheeler were discussed. on Long Island Sound, and fourth followed the name

THE LETTER CARRIERS.

A MOVEMENT TO RESIST THE REDUCTION IN THEIR SALARIES.

Last night a meeting of letter carriers, consisting of one representative from each station, met at station D, Cooper Institute, for the purpose of inaugurating a movement of opposition to the reduction in their salaries. A few days since an article appeared in the Herald setting forth the reductions made in the appropriation for the New York Post Office, and the consequent discharge of men and reduction of the saiaries of carriers and collectors. It is conceeded that the letter carriers of this city are a very hard-worked class of men, and any unduly low estimate of the value of their services will meet with public disapproval. In July, 1874, the saiaries of carriers and collectors were increased to the rates of $400 per year for auxinaries, and from that through the various grades up to $1,000 per annum. From the 1st day of June in the present year, however, the $1,000 saiaries were reduced to $900, and now follows another reduction, that is general throughout the department, of $25 in the annual saiary of each man, to take effect from the 25th of July. At the meeting last evening eight of the entire fourteen districts were represented. Jacob Jacobs, of station B, was elected chairman, and James H. Hennessey, of station D, secretary of the meeting. A general expression of opinion followed, from which it appeared that a common feeling with regard to the injustice of the reductions pervaded the department and was shared by the head officers as well. The opinion of the meeting was in layor of placing the salaries of all carriers at one flugure, and $1,000 yearly was considered but a fair remuneration for the service performed. There was no reason why one man should receive $1,000 per year for his labor and another, fully as competent, should receive but $400 for the same amount of work. They believed the sympathles of the press and public were enlisted in their behall and that there was need of proper and unanimous action on their part. It was stated that Postmaster James had agreed to forward any petition that they might draw up to the Postmaster General at Washington, with a letter of his own in their fivor. A committee, therefore, was appointed, consisting of P. Goodwin, of the general office; James H. Hennessy, station D, and M. J. Smith, of station E, to draft in the Herald setting forth the reductions made in the appropriation for the New York Post Office, and

OCEAN GROVE.

The children at the Sunday school at Ocean Grove on the afternoon of the 23d inst. numbered between 1,400 and 1,500. The ve-per service at the beach was a most solemn and picturesque sight. The congregation was seated on the clean white sand, some few having camp chairs. Of those sitting quietly there were, by actual count, 7,850, and many more were wandering up and down the beach.

Yesterday the meetings commenced at nine A. M. Normal class work under the direction of Rev. A. Peltz. At ten A. M. there were interesting addresses by Professor J. A. Lappincott, of Carlisie, Pa. At two P. M. normal work again. The first address was by Rev. George A. Peltz, who gave a brief instruction on the Bible and therein related nis general experience as a conductor of Sunday schools.

Professor S. W. Clark then spoke on the chronology of the Bible.

AMUSEMENTS.

WOOD'S MUSEUM. Mr. Jule Reen and Miss Sallie Adams commenced a week's engagement last hight at Wood's Museum. The gentleman is "tne celebrated Dutch comedian, actor and vecalist" and the lady is "the great instrumental queen, actress and vocalist." They appeared in a five-act sensation drama called the "Cut Glove," in which they served as foils of virtue to a number of unpleasthey served as foils of virtue to a number of unpleas-ant characters who were addicted to murder, rapine, abduction, arson and other freaks. Miss Adams piaved on the violin, guitar, dulcimer, cornet, xilophone, man-do in, bells, zither, piano, harmonicum and banjo, proving hersell to be an epitome of a peace juvilee, and Mr. Keen enacted the rôle of a worthy Am-rican citi-zen of Teutonic persuasion named Jacob Himmelmehr, who always came in at the right time to defeat villany and make virtue triumph. Altogether it was a very re-markable and instructive performance.

KELLY AND LEON'S MINSTRELS.

The very talented company which has taken possesion of the Twenty-Third Street Theatre gave a clever and amusing travestie, last night, in Charles Lecoq's "Los Cent Vierges," under the title of "The Island of Bacheiors." The principal rôle, Gabrielle, in which Aimée created such a success at Lina Edwin's Theatre, a few years since, was undertaken by Mr. Leon, and certainly in singing and acting, in grace and neatness, he communicated to it all the Parisian flavor of the original representative. Mr. Keily, as Sir Jonathan Phepersonne, Governor of the island, availed himself to the utmost of an excellent opportunity to display his comic talents, which are of a very high order. McAndrews, Leater, Benedict, Warren and Surridge appeared in several of their characteristic acts and united in furnishing a very delightful programme.

Mr. Charles Pope, with the New Orleans Varieties Company, will present "The Gascon" at the Grand Opera House, Baltimore, on September 11, and will play in the principal cities previous to the regular season in the Crescent City. Mr. J. P. Reynolds is the business manager and treasurer of the company. Auber, Gumbert, Warren, Supre and Donizetti were represented on the band programme at Gilmore's Garcored to the ocho by a very large audience. Prince Oscar, of Sweden, will be the next distinguished visitor

OBITUARY.

ALDERMAN PATRICK LYSAGHT. This gentleman died at Cornwall yesterday morning, after a short illness. He has been afflicted with bronchial disease for some time. Alderman Lysaght bas been identified with democratic politics for several years. At the time of his death he was about forty years of age. He came to this country when a mere boy, having been born in the county of Cork, Ireland. ant in the grocery establishment of Mr. John McLoughlin, at No. 44 Fulton street. From thence mcLoughlin, at No. 44 Fulton street. From thence he removed to the Sixth ward, where he opened a liquor store in Pearl street, near Chatham. Although located in a neighborhood which was tenanted by a very rough class of citizens, Lyasght succeeded in Keeping a very reputable place of business. He was a man of considerable force of character and soon impressed himself favorably upon the class of people by whom he was surrounded. During his political career he never wavered from allegiance to Tammany Hail, and was placed upon the general committee of that organization by ex-shoriff Matthew T. Brennan. Decease, was twice chosen Assistant Alderman, and when the new charter went into force providing for the election of three Aidermen from each Senatorial district, Patrick Lysaght was chosen by his party as one of the number.

In the densely populated districts comprising the Sixth ward of this city he hecame very popular with the residents. When Supervisor Waiter Roche gave up his business, corner of Pearl and Centre strees, Alderman Lysaght succeeded him, so that he was in possession of two stores at the time of his decease. He leaves a wile and six children. The funeral ceremonics will take place from his residence No. 27 City Hail place.

VICTIMS OF THE TOWPATH.

HENRY BERGH INSPECTING THE CANAL BOAT HORSES-WRETCHED CONDITION OF THE ANIMALS.

A tour of inspection was made yesterday by the officers of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals among the canal boats in the harbor, for the purpose of ascertaining the condition of the animals. The inspecting party consisted of Superintendent Hartfield, officers Evans and Fields and veterinary surgeon. They made a thorpiers 1, 2 3 and 4 East River. It must be understood that, while nearly every boat coming to this city from the Erie Canal brings with it two or three horses or mules, the captains rarely bring Troy to be doctored. Therefore an inspection of the Troy to be doctored. Therefore an inspection of the animals on the boats in the East River fails to give a proper idea of the actual condition of the majority of the animals at work on the canal.

The writer accompanied the officers on their inspection, and though they found some of the animals with sound shoulders by far the great majority of them bore terrible evidence of the cruelty to which they had been subjected. Raw, bleeding sores on the shoulders, ten inches long and four inches wide, by actual measurement, were tound here and there among the poor brutes, while deep, raw pactices of from three to five inches in circumference were frequent. The owners of such animals as were found to be in really good condition told the writer that there was no carthly excuss for a boatman's permitting his stock to become badly galled, while on the other hand the proprietors of the raw shouldered animais protested that they could not prevent the condition in which their horses and mules were found.

prevent the condition in which their horses and males were found.

Below will be found a few of the names of boats and captains who have wretched stock:—

Boat Olsva Lina, Captain Lara, from Rochester—One mule, sore 6 by 3 inches on both stoulders.

Boat F. A. Wishing, Captain John A. Wishing, from Hamburg—Two mules, sores 4 inches square on both shoulders.

Hamberg—Two mules, sores 4 liches square on both shoulders.

Boat Thomas Berry, captain's name refused, from Phenix—Two horses, sores 5 inches square.

Boat Benona Carpenter, E. W. King, from Niagara Falls—One mule, sore 5 inches square.

Boat Burbeck, Iosley, from Buliato—One mule, sores 4 inches square, raw and bleeding.

Boat Luther Finn, Cassady, from Lockport—Two norses, both shoulders raw; one sore 10 by 4 inches.

Boat John M. Smith, John Barnard, from Higginsville—One horse, sore on one shoulder 10 by 4½ inches; on other, sore 5 inches square.

Boat W. F. Henry—Two mules, very badly galled on both shoulders; sores raw and about 5 inches in circumierence.

umference.
It will be remembered that Mr. Bergh made an effort has fall to crush these abuses, but was met with great opposition by the canal men, who also fought him in the Legislature, the only result being their defeat. Two officers of the Society will leave to-day for Rochester and begin a vigorous inspection of the canal.

WIFE MURDER.

PATRICK TEEVAN BREAKS HIS WIFE'S NECK IN WILLIAMSBURG.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Rosa Teevan, of No. 274 Third street, Williamsburg, died from violence received at the hands of her husband, Patrick, early on Supday merning. The story of the murder is a simple one. Teevah, it is said, came bome drunk, and because his wife refused to go for more beer took her and pitched her on her head, breaking her neck. This model husband then got a buttle of gin, sat down and drank it, railing at the neighbors who had come to his wife's assistance. Dr. Sweeney, on being called, pronounced the case hopeless, and, on the poor woman's death, refused a certificate. Coroper Noland will hold an inquest this morning. Officers Holland and Short arrested Teeven.

MISSING BOOK WANTED.

When the Jersey City Board of Finance appointed a committee to investigate the accounts of the police justices and other city officials, they became scared and set to work to collect evidence of thier innocence or to hide proofs of their guilt. Justice Shackeiton was one of the officials to be investigated, and his account book was captured by the committee. Recently it has dis-appeared, and the committee are making strenuous ef-loris to find it, without success.
